crumbs

Bit by bit
Picked up the trail you left
Kiss by kiss
You hid all the signs
You checked out
Out out out out

Beat by beat
I got the measure of ya
Piece by piece
Put it all together
Oh wow
How'd it turn out so sour

Thought I'd found the something I was craving for
But wanting's so much sweeter Than what we settle for

(Been) cooking up your crumbs
Into a four-course meal
While you only loved the way
I made you feel
Well I'm done
Whoa I'm done
Whoa
I'm done done
Done done done
Cooking up your crumbs
I'm done
Cooking up your crumbs

Thought we were worth it
Cos I heard you even said
You still had
That little beat in your chest Thought I was waiting on Someone so sweet
Sweet sweet sweet
Then I got to know your ego
Funny how now it won't let go
You should've let go a long time ago

PRE CHORUS

CHORUS

You've been needing something
Wasn't me
And I realised you were never
There for me
Then we broke into tiny pieces
And it cut me up
So now you want me
Back again
When I've got no more
Love to waste
You lost your seat at my table
And I'll never go back to

CHORUS

I'm done

the longest time

If I hadn't been late that night
Would I have ended up next to you Everyone could see sparks between us
Somethin' real or too good to be true

I'm craving your eyes on me, your touch
Feel sick trying to figure out

If we could ever be together
Maybe we'd be the exception
Scared to make this confession
It's been the longest time
Since I felt so many butterflies
It's been the longest time
Since I felt so many butterflies

What if we aren't meant to work out
If I rush in and we burn up fast
It's tempting to walk away now Before we get too attached, but

I'm craving your eyes on me, your touch

If we could ever be together
Maybe we'd be the exception
Since I felt so many butterflies
It's been the longest time
Since I felt so many butterflies

You're trying to impress
And I'm still seeing the best
Every move is a second guess
Cos I don't know you yet

If we could ever be together
Maybe we'd be the exception
Since I felt so many butterflies
It's been the longest time

It's been the longest time

inevitably

Friday night, takeaway
A glass and conversation
The one that we've been dancing round for days
I realise whether we talk it out or not
This is only gonna go one way

It's so obvious now
It was inevitable
Saw this coming
Just a matter of when
We would come to an end
This is dying
Inevitably
Inevitably

Bitter sweet to say out loud
What's been in our heads Rip off the bandaid that hides our scars
Hits so hard as it dawns on me
Grieving a future that's not ours

It was inevitable
Just a matter of when
We would come to an end
This is dying
Inevitably
Inevitably

Why'd you have to be so thoughtful Couldn't you be just a little more awful
Then I could set this bridge alight
When we say goodbye

It was inevitable
Just a matter of when
We would come to an end
This is dying
Inevitably
Inevitably

blood on my tongue

Sharing our day in the kitchen
You frowned at my all time high
My good news made you feel bad
Did you mean to start a fight
Got so good at disappearing
In what you wanted, what you liked

Thought one day I'd be enough
Tried to make myself easier to love
But now there's

No more biting my tongue
I got
So much breath in my lungs
I'm not a
Cup of tea for everyone
And that's more than fine by me
I won't lose myself again
What I said was
What I meant
I'm having all of the fun with
No more blood on my tongue

Shedded tears all on the ground
Choked down all my words
Hit rock bottom, came back stronger
Pushed past all of the hurt
Used to hide inside the shadows
Now I'm running out into the world

Feels so good in the light
Now my all time high is all mine

CHORUS x2

we can't lose

We were always runnin' to our next mistake Crashing out night after night and sleepin' all day
In our blurry photographs
Time was on our side
Laughin' 'til we cried
Waitin' for the sun to rise

How did we get here

You and me
Still can't believe
We lost our hearts
And shared our tears
Another year down for the ride
Fakin' it without a guide
We made it out alive
How the hell did we survive
Whoa
Whoa
We can't lose
We can't lose
Made it through

Every day I get up
Do the things I'm meant to do
But I can still be lookin' for the adult in the room I'm so exhausted down to my bones How can I take this without losing hope

How did we get here

CHORUS

Hey
Na na na (we can't lose)
Na na na (made it through)
Na na na

CHORUS

thank you for coming along for the ride. It means the world that you're here! 🤍
